LATIN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES LECTURER NOMINATION FORM

Department Nominating: ____________________________________________________________
Nomination Period (one of two weeks): _____________________________________________
Approximate Nomination Date(s) ________________________________________________

Name of Nominee: _________________________________________________________________
Address: _________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________
Phone: ____________________________ (Office) ____________________________ (Mobile)
Email Address: ____________________________
Institution and Year of Higher Degree: ______________________________________________
Field of Study: __________________________________________________________________
Current Title: ____________________________________________________________________
Current Institution: __________________________________________________________________

Stanford Faculty Nominator: _______________________________________________________
Faculty Email Address: ____________________________________________________________
Department Chair: __________________________________________________________________
Chair Email Address: __________________________________________________________________
Department Manager: __________________________________________________________________
Manager Email Address: __________________________________________________________________

Please submit application materials via email, fax, or in person to:

Elizabeth Sáenz-Ackermann, Associate Director
latinamerica@stanford.edu
582 Alvarado Row, MC: 8545
Fax: (650) 723-9822

Submission Due Date for 2024-2025 Academic Year:
Nomination Form or Letter of Intent: November 1, 2024
Complete Application: November 1, 2024